

Case Study – Italian Ministry of Health

Progress

Our method has been determined to be one of the most effective, with learners advancing by one level with about 30 hours of training. The MOH employees fit perfectly into this outstanding average, as they have improved of over half a level with 16 hours of lessons.

Proper use of the five basic language skills has improved significantly. Final test results compared to initial test results show that on average the MOH learners have improved by at least half a level.

The combination of spoken skills used during conversation and written skills used with the assistance of our platform make for a well-rounded learning experience. The quality of our lessons and the careful study behind our method make for a fast and efficient improvement.
